PROJECTS

Interlinking of Rivers National Water Ways Model and Case Study

Inter-River Linking Project (IRL) is a mega project that engages money, resources, engineering, management and human understanding. It is designed to ease water shortages in western and southern India and aims to link 30 major rivers. The core objectives of the paper are to study issues and challenges in interlinking of rivers in India and to study environmental impact of Inter-River Linking Project (IRL). At the backdrop of this, the present paper is an attempt to study issues and challenges in interlinking of rivers in India from the point of view of society at large.

Analysis And Design of Post office Building

Conducted structural analysis and design for a multi-storey post office building. Prepared detailed drawings and layout plans using AutoCAD. Applied IS codes and civil engineering standards in structural design. Designed RCC components such as beams, slabs, and columns. Performed load calculations including dead load, live load, and wind load. Estimated materials and cost for the project to ensure economic feasibility. Worked collaboratively with team members to meet project deadlines. Gained practical knowledge in structural analysis, construction planning, and documentation.
